

NIIT announces communication test

NIIT, a leading global talent development corporation administered its first Test of English for International Communication (TOEIC) Test on Sunday across Ahmedabad, Bangalore, Chennai, Delhi NCR, Hyderabad, Kolkata, Mumbai and Pune. TOEIC® test is offered in about 90 countries around the world with more than 9000 companies, government and public offices, accepting the test as an industry benchmark for assessment of a candidate's English proficiency for international communication. "Initially the TOEIC test will be offered across 10 centers in eight major cities, we plan to soon roll it out across 20 cities in the next three months," says Ashish Basu, president, New Business Incubation, NIIT Ltd.

Data Quest

National, September 30, 2008

NIIT Announces TOEIC Test

NIIT has announced its first Test of English for International Communication (TOEIC) test in the country on September 28, 2008 across Ahmedabad, Bangalore, Chennai, Delhi NCR, Hyderabad, Kolkata, Mumbai and Pune. TOEIC

test is a global standard for communicative English ability in the international workplace and is part of Educational Testing Service suite of products. The initiative is aimed to enhance employability and provide competitive advantage to Indian organizations in the global market place.

SERVICE ENDORSED

NIIT recently announced the endorsement of the Test of English for International Communication (TOEIC) test by leading corporations throughout India. Through NIIT's first nationwide TOEIC test administration, 24/7 Customer, Genpact, Inventurus and Wipro participated in a benchmarking exercise of their employees' communication skills. This benchmarking exercise was also envisaged to help corporations set acceptance standards while recruiting and aid in monitoring improvement of communication skills of employees as they undergo training. Offered in 90 countries around the world, the TOEIC test is used by more than 9,000 corporations, educational institutions and government agencies.